(VET) for People with Disabilities
through Cultural Institutions
2015-2017

“Count Me In Too (CMI2)”

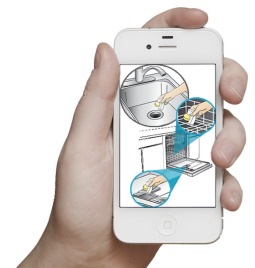

Dear Reader,

Welcome to the first Count Me In Too newsletter. In the newsletter we will be happy to introduce you to our VET project for people with disabilities through cultural institutions.

The project took its starting point in the belief that no citizen of Europe, and especially those who are disadvantaged because of certain social or individual learning disabilities, should be discriminated against in training or employment.

CMI2 is focused on improving vocational education and training for people with special needs. It draws from and supplements the Count Me In (CMI) project www.count-me-in.eu.

CMI2 will develop an ultra-simple app creation tool that will enable managers, supervisors, mentors and job coaches to create simple 'task based apps' to empower workers and trainees with learning disabilities to work more independently. One example of such an app may be a simplified dishwasher operating manual.

If you want to learn more about our project, please don't hesitate to get in touch with us via phone or email. We will be glad to give you further information concerning our project activities and our plans for the future. We will also greatly appreciate your feedback.

Count us in too!
